

Andrew M. Wuertele

Andrew is the Chief Administrative Officer for East River Medical Imaging, PC New York, NY. He is responsible for approximately 100,000 annual diagnostic and interventional procedures and management responsibilities for all (130+) non-physician employees across practice functions including clinical/service operations, compliance, IT, human resources, revenue cycle/billing, and business development.

In 2005, he earned an M.S. in Health Services Management & Policy from Milano/New School for Management in New York, NY and in 1997 he received a dual degree – B.S. in Industrial Engineering and B.A. in Philosophy from the University of Pittsburgh. During his time at Pitt, Andy was involved in the Blue and Gold Society and was President of the Student Government Body in 1996. He was awarded the University of Pittsburgh's Senior of the Year Award and the Engineering Student Leader of the Year in 1997. He also received first prize in the 1997 National Simulation Modeling Competition, Institute of Industrial Engineers.

He is on the Board of Trustees and current Board Chair of the Icla da Silva Foundation in NYC. This organization is the largest recruitment organization for bone marrow donors and matches approximately 40,000 new donors annually.

Andy is a current Director at Large on the Pitt Alumni Association Board of Directors and is Director for Midtown Arts Common and Treasurer for People for Lappin.